Introduction

I'm a data-driven creative who helps companies understand user's behavior & translate findings to simple & meaningful products that go beyond beautiful visuals.

Throughout my design career, I've had the opportunity to branch out & explore different business functions within marketing, product development, customer advocacy & even front-end development with a UI Design certification. These practical experiences help me bring unique insights into the user-centering process for product design & development while considering the big picture and all it's moving parts.

While I'm a self-starter who works well independently, I highly value team collaboration. I find that having a place to question and grow ideas nurtures creativity, problem-solving & learning from users.

I'm looking to join a team that shares my passion for creating products that address the user's needs before they even know they have them & that values the research involved to get there.

Education & Qualifications
